School's in Session

By edubzki

Situation: You are the team leader for 1-2B. Your squad has been tasked with holding Western and Southern security on a nearby school as the rest of your platoon is positioned off to your East. Intelligence states roughly three squads of hostile SATYR Mercenaries are operating in the AO. 1-1 is holding Northern security on the school with one gun team floating between 1-1 and 1-2.

1-1 reports contact with a squad sized element to their North, you hear the gun team open up. Just after receiving contact, you hear a string of PKM and rifle fire from your squad's West. A member of 1-1A radios in that 1-1A TL is incapacitated. You hear 1-1A immediately return fire as the rifle and PKM fire to the West continues.

Your squad leader, positioned with 1-2A inside of the school, yells across a short opening, "Bravo action left!", before a burst of PKM fire leaves him incapacitated. You look to the South and note dead space and good foliage that would offer your 1-2B Team good concealment and cover to begin a left action.

Requirements: You have two minutes to issue any orders. Provide explanation of your rationale.
